Sometimes more than one subtitle appears on screen at once — something DoStudio never was able to handle without causing annoying blinking.

But the best feature has to be Scenarist's ability to do partial muxes No more having to wait for the entire disc to build when you're debugging menus! Dil dil pakistan tablo.. This has saved us WEEKS of unnecessary build time This is the biggest reason to upgrade, hands down.

Scenarist has none of DoStudio's compatibility issues, and offers detailed control over disc layout and layer breaks.. Once we changed to Scenarist's subtitle workflow, we were able to have concurrent subtitles on screen with no issues.. We've experienced no random freeze-ups, no unexpected quits, and no weird incidents where our project got corruptedand we've built some incredibly complicated discs!..
